

Online Accelerators

OVERVIEW

Our Online Accelerators are designed to rapidly increase your knowledge of digital engagement and EngagementHQ. These online training sessions are tailored to your personal or organisational needs in order to provide targeted on-demand training for you and your team.

You can use our online accelerators to learn about best-practice use of EngagementHQ. Topics may include;

- Choosing the right tools
- Setting up a cohesive and well-planned project
- How to effectively use text analysis and survey analysis in reporting
- Designing an interactive mapping activity
- Using ideation in practice
- Setting up an internal staff consultation program
- EHQ overview and refresher training

WHO'S IT FOR?

We highly recommend this service for any organisation or individual who requires additional training to assist in unlocking the power of EngagementHQ and building their personal or team skills in digital community engagement.

HOW IT WORKS

An online accelerator begins with a catch up session or email correspondence to determine the online training session content. Once this is agreed, a time is scheduled for the delivery and the session will be run via an online video conference platform. The training session will be recorded and a copy provided to you for your records along with a post session summary.
